Question

Describe a place you would like to visit in your free time You should say: Where it is What you will do there How long you will stay there And explain why you would like to visit it

Answer

Band score: 6.0

A place I'd like to visit when I have enough time is Beijing, the capital of China. There are many places of interest there, such as Tiananmen Square and the Great Wall. I want to do a lot of things there because the city deserves it. Firstly, I want to talk to the locals to learn about Beijing's history, since it is a historical city. I would also like to visit famous scenic spots that I have never seen before. Trying the local food is another good choice because there are many traditional and delicious dishes available. I think I would stay for about five or seven days to make sure I have enough time to enjoy my trip, as there are so many things to do. However, I also want to take my time and fully enjoy the experience. For me, I believe I can learn about the history and culture to broaden my horizons and open my mind. While also having a rest instead of studying or working all the time. So, I believe I will have a memorable experience in Beijing.

- the city deserves it → 不自然，母语者一般不会这样表达
- Firstly → 模板化明显，像背诵
- five or seven days → 表达不自然，通常说 “about a week”
- broaden my horizons and open my mind → 雅思高频模板词，考官听太多
- While also having a rest instead of studying or working all the time. → 不完整句子（sentence fragment）

I’d like to talk about Beijing, which is the capital city of China and one of the most famous tourist destinations in the country.

There are many well-known attractions there, such as Tiananmen Square, the Forbidden City, and the Great Wall, so I think it would be an amazing place to explore during my free time.

One thing I’d really like to do is talk with local people and learn more about the city’s long history and culture. Since Beijing is a historical city, I believe I could learn many interesting stories from local residents.

Another activity I’m looking forward to is visiting famous scenic spots that I have only seen online before. I think seeing them in person would be much more exciting and impressive.

Of course, I also want to try the local food. Beijing is well known for traditional dishes such as Peking duck, and I’d love to experience authentic local cuisine there.

I think I would stay there for about a week because there are so many places to visit and activities to enjoy. At the same time, I wouldn’t want to rush the trip, so staying longer would allow me to relax and fully enjoy the experience.

Overall, I’d really like to visit Beijing because it would give me a chance to learn more about Chinese history and culture while also helping me relax and take a break from studying and work. I’m sure it would be a very enjoyable and memorable trip.

Question1

Why do you think some people choose not to travel abroad?

Answer

Band score: 6.0

I think there are several reasons. Firstly, traveling abroad is a long-distance trip, so it may cost a lot of time, energy, and money. Some people simply cannot afford it. Secondly, not everyone wants to experience different cultures or foods in other countries. They just want to have some peaceful time and enjoy life. Thirdly, the world isn't at peace right now. So it may be dangerous for people to travel to another country, where they cannot ensure their safety. That's why I think some people choose not to travel abroad, and instead stay in their own country or local city.

- Firstly/Secondly/Thirdly 比较模板化，口语中容易显得像背诵
- traveling abroad is a long-distance trip 表达不够自然，属于重复定义
- experience different cultures or foods 搭配稍微生硬，可以更自然
- the world isn't at peace right now 说法太大且有点绝对
- where they cannot ensure their safety 不自然，母语者一般不会这样表达
- 结尾句子有些重复：country 和 local city 意思重叠
- 添加一些例子

Polished

I think there are several reasons why some people choose not to travel abroad.

One reason is that international travel can be quite expensive and time-consuming, especially for people who have limited budgets or busy schedules.

For example, some people might prefer saving money for other priorities like buying a house or supporting their family, so travelling abroad becomes less realistic for them.

Another reason is that not everyone is interested in experiencing foreign cultures or trying unfamiliar food. Some people simply prefer familiar environments where they can relax and enjoy a peaceful holiday.

In addition, some people may worry about safety issues or unexpected problems when traveling overseas, especially when they are not familiar with the local language or culture.

Overall, I think people's travel choices mainly depend on their financial situation, personal interests, and sense of security.

Q2

Do you think a gap period in life is important?

Answer

Band score: 6.0

Yes, I do. Firstly, if we keep working or studying all the time, our productivity and efficiency may decrease, which is not ideal indeed. Secondly, both our bbodies and minds need a rest after a long period of work, so that we can start again and make more progress. Thirdly, it's necessary for people to enjoy life, as this is the real meaning of life, rather than just focusing on work or study. So I think we are supposed to have a gap period in our lives. It's very important undoubtedly.

- Firstly/Secondly/Thirdly 比较模板化，口语里不够自然
- “which is not ideal indeed” 表达生硬，不像真实交流
- “bbodies” 拼写错误
- “a rest” 更自然的说法是 “take a break”
- 结尾 “It’s very important undoubtedly” 不自然且重复前文观点
- 内容有点泛，可以增加更具体的理由，比如旅行、思考未来、缓解压力等
- 添加一些例子

Polished

Yes, I think taking a gap period is quite important. If people keep studying or working continuously, they may become stressed and less productive over time.

I also believe that both our bodies and minds need time to relax and recover after a long period of hard work. Having a short break can help people feel more energetic and motivated when they return to their studies or jobs.

For example, students who prepare for exams for months often perform better after taking a short break, because they can come back with a clearer mind.

Besides that, a gap period gives people the chance to enjoy life and explore new experiences. For example, some people travel, learn new skills, or spend more time with their families during this time.

Overall, I think a gap period is beneficial because it can help people reduce stress, improve their mental health, and prepare better for the future.

Question

Describe a tall building you like or dislike You should say: What it is used for Where it is What it looks like And explain why you like/dislike it

Answer

> Band score: 6.0

A tall building I don't like is an apartment where my uncle lives. It is a tall residential building with many rooms for rent, located in the center of the city, where many workers and students live. The building is made of cement and covered with red paint. It was built a long time ago, so it looks broken and old-fashioned. Moreover, the windows are very small, so I couldn't get much sunshine when I lived at my uncle's place. That's also the reason I dislike it, because it gives me a sense of depression. I prefer to live in a house with plenty of sunshine and enough room space, so that I can enjoy a homely environment.

- “broken” 一般形容坏掉，不适合描述老旧建筑，更自然的是 “run-down” 或 “worn-out”

- “a sense of depression” 不自然，口语里更常说 “feel depressed” 或 “feel uncomfortable”
- “room space” 搭配不自然，可以直接说 “more space”
- 内容基本符合题目，但对建筑外观的描述可以更具体
- 后半部分重复使用 “so” 和 “because”，句式稍微单一
- 可以增加个人经历，让答案更像真实口语，而不是单纯描述

Polished

I’d like to talk about a tall apartment building where my uncle used to live, and honestly, I didn’t like it very much.

The building is located in the city center, and many students and office workers live there. It is a very old residential building that was built many years ago.

In terms of appearance, the building looks quite run-down and old-fashioned. The outside walls are painted red, but the paint is fading in many places. The path to the gate is also narrow and dark, which make the whole place feel uncomfortable.

One thing I can't completely stand is the tiny windows. Because of that, there is not much natural light inside the apartment, so the rooms feel a bit depressing.

I once stayed there for a few days with my uncle. I realized that I personally prefer places with more sunlight and open space. I think a bright and comfortable environment can make people feel more relaxed and positive.

Overall, although the building is convenient because of its location, I wouldn’t want to live there permanently because the atmosphere feels too crowded and depressing for me.

Q1

Are there many tall buildings in your country?

A1

> Band score: 6.0

Yes. We are a highly urbanized country, so many of our cities have very tall buildings to accommodate the needs of residents and businesses.

- “highly urbanized country” 表达没错，但有点正式，口语里稍显书面化
- 内容偏短，可以增加一点具体细节，让回答更自然
- “accommodate the needs” 也是偏正式表达，口语里可以更简单自然

Polished

Yes, definitely. In my country, especially in big cities, there are a lot of tall buildings nowadays.

This is mainly because many people live and work in urban areas, so cities need more space for offices, apartments, and shopping centers.

I think tall buildings have become a symbol of modern urban development in many places.

Q2

What are the differences between those tall buildings in your country?

A2

Band score: 6.0

The height of tall buildings varies. The tallest building in our country can reach about five hundred meters, but most are nearly three hundred meters high. What's more, the biggest difference between those tall buildings is their appearance. Some are modern and fashionable, while others look old-fashioned.

- "five hundred meters" 和 "three hundred meters" 数据太具体，口语里容易显得像背诵
- "modern and fashionable" 搭配不太自然，建筑更常用 "modern" "unique" "stylish"
- 回答只提到高度和外观，内容稍微单薄，可以增加用途或设计风格
- "What's more" 在短回答里有点正式，可以换成更自然连接方式

Polished

I think the main differences are their design, purpose and height.

In terms of appearance, some buildings look very modern and stylish, with glass walls and creative designs, while older ones look much more traditional and simple.

As for purpose, most tall buildings are used for offices, while others are mainly residential apartments or hotels.

Another difference is the height. Some skyscrapers are extremely tall and become landmarks in the city, whereas others are much shorter and more practical.

Question

Describe a boring place You should say: Where it is Who you went there with What you did there And explain why you think it is a boring place

Answer

Band score: 6.0

The place I'd like to describe is an art museum located in the center of the city. I went there with my elder sister, who majored in art and is a big fan of painting. However, I don't like art at all, so I couldn't understand the real meaning behind the paintings. It was quite a boring experience for me. We got stuck in traffic because of the holiday, which cost us a lot of time. The museum was so crowded and noisy, which made for not such a good experience. During the visit, I just walked around and glanced at the exhibits as I passed by. Finally, I saw a lot of unique and excellent souvenirs, but they were so expensive that I couldn't afford them.

- "real meaning behind the paintings" 表达有点生硬，口语里更自然的是 "appreciate the paintings" 或 "understand the artwork"
- "not such a good experience" 不自然，更口语化的是 "not a very enjoyable experience"
- "unique and excellent souvenirs" 搭配不自然，"excellent" 很少形容 souvenir，可以换成 "interesting" 或 "beautiful"
- 内容整体符合题目，但"boring"的原因还不够深入，可以多强调自己的感受
- 句型有些单一，很多句子都是简单陈述句，可以增加更自然的连接和细节

Polished

I'd like to talk about an art museum in the city center that I found quite boring. I went there with my elder sister because she majored in art and really enjoys visiting museums and exhibitions.

Since I'm not very interested in art, I found it difficult to appreciate the artwork or understand why they were so famous.

To make things worse, we visited the museum during a public holiday, so there were many people outside. The traffic was terrible and it took us a long time to get there. When we arrived there, the museum was extremely crowded and noisy, which made the whole experience less enjoyable.

During the visit, I mostly walked around without paying much attention to the exhibits. I was honestly a bit tired and bored after a short time.

One thing I did like was the souvenir shop at the end of the visit. There were many interesting and creative souvenirs, but unfortunately, most of them were too expensive for me.

Overall, I think the place was boring mainly because I'm not really interested in art, and the crowded environment made the experience even worse.

Q1

Why do most children think education is boring?

A1

Band score: 6.0

I think there are several reasons. Firstly, children have to take many examinations at school, and they can be very difficult, which may upset them when they get low scores. Secondly, teachers assign a lot of work, so children have to do homework both at school and at home. Thirdly, studying takes up a long period of time, leaving them with not enough time for the other things they want to do.

- Firstly/Secondly/Thirdly 太模板化，Part 3 更像自然讨论
- "long period of time" 比较累赘，可以更简洁
- "not enough time" 表达没问题，但不够自然
- 内容有逻辑，但可以增加"缺少兴趣"这种更真实的原因

Polished

I think there are several reasons why many children find education boring.

One reason is that they have to take a lot of exams, and getting low scores can make them feel stressed or disappointed.

Another reason is that students are often given too much homework, so they still need to study after school instead of relaxing or doing activities they enjoy.

Also, some classes are not very interesting because students are only asked to memorize information. As a result, they may lose motivation and feel bored with studying.

So, I think that children's patience and stress make them thnk education is boring.

Q2

Why aren't young people willing to listen to the experiences of older people?

A2

Band score: 6.0

Firstly, I think it is a generation gap. The opinions and values of older people may not be useful nowadays. Secondly, with the development of technology, people now prefer chatting online instead of face to face. Thirdly, chatting with others takes up a lot of time, so young people want to do other things like playing games, studying or exercising. That makes them unwilling to listen to others.

- "a generation gap" 可以保留，但后面解释太绝对

- “older people’s opinions may not be useful” 容易显得太武断
- “face to face” 更自然写法是 “face-to-face”
- 最后一句逻辑有点弱，和题目联系不够直接

Polished

I think one main reason is the generation gap between young people and senior citizens. They often have different values, lifestyles, and ways of thinking, so young people may feel that older people cannot fully understand them.

Another reason is that technology has changed communication habits. Nowadays, many young people prefer chatting online rather than having long face-to-face conversations.

Besides that, young people are usually busy with studying, work, or entertainment, so they may not have enough patience to listen carefully to older people’s experiences.

Q3

What can people do when they feel bored?

A3

> Band score: 6.0

I think we can do a lot of things when we feel bored. Firstly, if others are accompanying us, we can chat with them and have a deep conversation. Secondly, if we are alone, we can use our mobile phones, as the internet provides a lot of interesting content. Thirdly, putting down the phone and enjoying the environment might be another choice.

- “a deep conversation” 有点正式，口语里更自然是 “a good conversation”
- “Thirdly” 依旧比较模板化
- “enjoying the environment” 有点奇怪，可以更具体
- 内容可以更丰富一点，比如运动、听音乐等

Polished

When people feel bored, there are many things they can do to relax themselves.

For example, if they are with friends or family members, they can chat and have a good conversation together.

If they are alone, many people choose to use their phones to watch videos, listen to music, or browse social media because it is entertaining and convenient.

Another good way is to put down the phone for a while and do something relaxing, such as taking a walk or enjoying the surroundings.

Overall, I strongly think that there are many interesting things to do to kill the boring time.

Q4

Why are some teachers’ classes boring? Are there any solutions?

A4

Band score: 6.0

The academic content is often so difficult that students feel bored when listening to a class. Sometimes, teachers just keep speaking without giving students any opportunity to respond, which makes the lesson very boring due to the lack of conversation. I think we can do a lot to solve this problem. Teachers could lead classes in new ways to attract students' attention. Additionally, we can encourage students to participate in activities and speak confidently.

- “teachers just keep speaking” 比较口语化，但稍显直接
- “due to the lack of conversation” 太书面化
- “we can encourage students” 主语有点突然
- 解决方案部分可以更具体

Polished

Some teachers’ classes are boring because the content is too difficult for students to understand.

In some classes, teachers spend most of the time lecturing, so students do not have many chances to interact or ask questions.

As a result, students may lose concentration easily and become less interested in the lesson.

To solve this problem, teachers could use more interactive teaching methods, such as group discussions, games, or videos, to make more students focus on the classes.

At the same time, students should also be encouraged to participate actively and express their own ideas in class.

Q5

Why do some young people feel bored when talking with old people?

A5

Band score: 5.5

similar to Q2

- Part 3 不能直接说 “similar to Q2”
- 即使观点类似，也需要重新组织答案
- 回答太短，会影响 fluency 和 coherence

Polished

I think some young people feel bored when talking with older people because they often have different interests and communication styles.

Q2: They often have different values, lifestyles, and ways of thinking

For example, older people may enjoy talking about life experiences or traditional ideas, while young people are usually more interested in technology, entertainment, or modern trends.

Another reason is that some conversations with older people can feel too serious or repetitive, so young people may lose interest after a while.

Overall, I think the communication style and experience make young people feel bored whill having a talk with old people.

Q6

Do most people think news about celebrities is boring?

A6

Band score: 6.0

Yes, there is too much news about celebrities, like influencers and idols. But honestly, most people don't really care about others' lives. They might think it's a waste of time to follow this kind of news. What's more, most people prefer enjoying their own lives, or simply watching movies and comedies, because these things help them feel relaxed and entertained.

- "But honestly" 有点生硬，可以更自然
- "others' lives" 太泛，可以具体说 celebrities' private lives
- 逻辑不错，但可以补充"有些人还是喜欢"的平衡观点

Polished

It depends on the person.

I think many people do find celebrity news boring because there is too much of it on the internet nowadays.

Some people are not interested in celebrities' private lives, so they feel that following this kind of news is a waste of time.

However, there are still people who enjoy celebrity news because they like entertainment or want to follow fashion trends.

Personally, I think it depends on individual interests.

Question

Describe your favorite city that you have visited You should say: Where it is How you knew it When you visited it And explain why it is your favourite city

Answer

Band score: 6.0

My favorite city so far is Beijing. It is in the north of China and is the capital of our country. I know about this fascinating city from the internet because there are many news articles and blogs about it. I visited last summer vacation because as a student, I only had enough time during the holidays. I visited a lot of places of interest like Tiananmen Square, the Forbidden City, and the Great Wall. I was so excited when visiting them, and I learned a lot of knowledge about history and culture. They broadened my horizons and opened my mind. What's more, I also enjoyed the food and the scenery there. I experienced a lot of things that I had only seen on the internet before. Finally, not only did I get some rest after a long period of studying, but I also refreshed myself.

- "from the internet" 太宽泛，可以更自然具体一点
- "last summer vacation" 缺少主语，应该是 "I visited it during..."
- "a lot of knowledge" 搭配不自然，更自然的是 "learned a lot"
- "broadened my horizons and opened my mind" 太模板化，雅思口语里很常见

My favorite city that I've visited so far is Beijing. It is located in the northern part of the country and the capital city of China as well.

It is famous for its long history and cultural attractions and also one of the most famous tourist destinations in the country.

I first learned about Beijing through travel videos, blogs, and social media, so I had always wanted to visit it in person.

I finally had the chance to go there during my summer vacation last year. Since I was free from school at that time, it was the perfect opportunity to travel.

During the trip, I explored many well-known attractions, including Tiananmen Square, the Forbidden City, and the Great Wall. Seeing these historical sites in real life was much more impressive than seeing them online. I also learned a lot about Chinese history and traditional culture during the talk with the locals. Besides that, I really enjoyed the traditional dishes such as Peking duck and the noodles.

Overall, Beijing is both cultural and historical, which made the experience even more interesting. I is also my favorite city because the trip was both relaxing and meaningful, and it gave me many unforgettable memories.

Q1

Which is more suitable for young people, urban life or rural life, and which is more suitable for old people?

A1

> Band score: 6.0

I think young people prefer urban life, while older people would rather live in rural areas. There are many places for entertainment in the city, so young people can experience a lot of interesting things when living there, like museums, gardens and universities. However, most older people want to live in a peaceful environment, where they can have a house surrounded by plants and flowers.

- "places for entertainment" 表达可以更自然，比如 "more entertainment options"
- "experience a lot of interesting things" 有点空泛，可以更具体
- "gardens and universities" 和 entertainment 联系不强
- 内容整体符合题目，但可以增加工作机会和生活节奏等更真实的原因

Polished

I think young people are generally more suited to urban life, while older people may prefer living in rural areas.

One reason is that cities provide more job opportunities, entertainment options, and convenient public services. Young people usually enjoy a fast-paced lifestyle, so they may like going to shopping malls, concerts, cafés, or meeting friends in the city.

In contrast, many older people prefer a quieter and more peaceful environment. Living in the countryside allows them to enjoy fresh air, slower lifestyles, and natural surroundings such as gardens, trees, and open spaces.

Q2

How do people choose a city to travel to?

A2

Band score: 6.0

I think it depends on the culture and scenery of the city. Firstly, people can experience different cultures in other cities by enjoying delicious, visiting places of interest , and talking to people from different backgrounds. That's quite an interesting experience. What's more, scenery plays an important role when people choose a city to travel to. For example, people can see glaciers in Northern Europe or experience forests in tropical areas, which provide very different experiences.

- "Firstly" 太模板化
- "enjoying delicious" 语法错误，缺少名词，应该是 "delicious food"
- "places of interest ," 标点前面不应该有空格
- "experience forests" 搭配不自然，可以换成 "explore forests"
- 可以增加交通、消费或 famous attractions 等更真实的因素

Polished

I think people usually choose a city to travel to based on its culture, scenery, and famous attractions.

For example, many tourists like visiting places where they can see places of interest and learn about different cultures. So they prefer historical cities to modern ones, and Beijing is a wonderful choice.

Natural scenery is another important factor. Some people enjoy seeing glaciers and snow landscapes in Northern Europe, while others prefer tropical areas where they can explore forests and beaches.

Overall, people choose a city for these factors that attract their attentions exactly.

Q3

Do you think a tourist city is also a good place to live? Why?

A3

Band score: 6.0

No, I don't think so. I believe there are several reasons for this. Firstly, tourist cities are overcrowded and noisy due to the large number of visitors, which makes them unsuitable for living. Secondly, the cost of goods can be quite high, placing a significant financial burden on residents. Additionally, these places may lack sufficient infrastructure and public services such as hospitals, museums, and universities.

- “Firstly/Secondly” 依旧比较模板化
- “cost of goods” 范围太宽，更自然的是 “living costs” 或 “housing prices”
- “tourist cities may lack infrastructure” 不太合理，很多旅游城市基础设施其实很好
- 最后一点逻辑不够强，可以换成交通拥堵或隐私减少

Polished

No, I don't. Although tourist cities are exciting to visit, they may not always be ideal places to live.

One reason is that these cities are often very crowded, especially during holidays or peak travel seasons. As a result, residents may have to deal with traffic jams, noise, and long waiting times in public places.

Another problem is that the living costs is usually much higher in tourist cities. For example, housing prices, restaurant prices, and transportation costs can all be expensive because of tourism.

So, It can be difficult to enjoy a peaceful daily life there if people live there.

Q4

Do most people prefer to travel in a modern city or a historical city?

A4

I think most people prefer traveling to a historical city. Firstly, many people nowadays live in modern cities, so they are more attracted by historical culture and views. Secondly, a historical city can provide quite a different experience. For example, I can learn a lot knowledge about history and culture in a historical city, that broadened my horizons and opened my mind.

- “Firstly/Secondly” 模板化明显
- “historical culture and views” 搭配不自然，可以说 “historical atmosphere and architecture”
- “a lot knowledge” 语法错误，应该是 “a lot of knowledge” 或 “learn a lot”
- “broadened my horizons and opened my mind” 太模板化，建议避免
- 最后一句时态错误，“that broadened” 应该改成 “which broadens” 或重写

Polished

I think many people prefer visiting historical cities because they offer experiences that are quite different from modern urban life.

Nowadays, a lot of people already live in modern cities filled with tall buildings and shopping centers, so they may be more interested in places with historical attractions and traditional culture.

Historical cities also allow visitors to learn more about the past. For example, tourists can visit ancient buildings, museums, and famous landmarks, which helps them understand the history and culture of a country better.

At the same time, historical cities often have a unique atmosphere that makes traveling more memorable and meaningful.

I used to get up early in the past, but I want to mention one special time when I got up early to attend a programming match last summer vacation. The match was held in the morning, and we should try our best to solve the maths problems with programming skills. We got up at five o'clock and walked to the match venue. After arriving there, we had to prepare for our methodology and computers so that we could perform better during the competition. We also had a talk with our coach, who told us what we should do in the competition. I was very happy that we won the game in the end and took first prize. It was a memorable experience because it gave me something special, and I learned a lot from it.

- "programming match" 不太自然，更常见的是 "programming competition" 或 "coding competition"
- "maths problems with programming skills" 表达不自然，可以简化
- "prepare for our methodology and computers" 搭配错误，"methodology" 不适合这里
- "game" 不适合形容比赛，更自然的是 "competition"

I'd like to talk about a time when I got up very early to attend a programming competition during my summer vacation last year.

The competition started early in the morning, so my teammates and I had to wake up at around five o'clock. We quickly got ready and went to the competition venue together.

The contest mainly focused on solving mathematical problems using programming skills, so we spent some time preparing our computers and discussing strategies before the event began. Our coach also encouraged us and gave us some useful advice, which helped us feel more confident.

At first, I felt quite sleepy and nervous because I wasn't used to waking up so early. However, once the competition started, I became fully focused and excited. In the end, our team won first prize, which made me extremely happy and proud.

It was a really memorable experience because I not only improved my programming skills, but also learned the importance of teamwork and preparation.

Q1

Is it good to arrive early in any situation?

A1

> Band score: 6.0

Yes, it is. Firstly, I think it's very rude if you are late for an important meeting or other activities. What's more, arriving early allows you to prepare your body and mind for the upcoming situation, so that you can perform better.

- "Firstly" 比较模板化，Part 3 里不够自然
- "prepare your body and mind" 表达有点生硬
- "upcoming situation" 太正式，不像口语
- 可以补充 "not every situation needs arriving early"，让观点更自然平衡

Polished

Yes, it is.

In most situations, I think arriving early is a good habit because it shows respect for other people's time.

Also, arriving a little earlier gives people enough time to relax, prepare themselves, and avoid stress before an important event.

For example, I often arrive early to have a class, which allows me to have enough time to prepare study materials and keep a clean mind.

However, I don't think it is necessary to arrive too early in every situation, especially for casual activities with close friends.

Q2

Do you know anyone who likes to get up early?

A2

> Band score: 6.5

Yes, my grandfather is a very good example of someone who gets up early. He wakes up at about five o'clock every morning. After getting up, he does a lot of things. For example, he waters flowers and other plants, exercises, and prepares breakfast for us. What's more, sometimes he reads books to learn something new and drinks a cup of tea to enjoy some peaceful time. Getting up early makes him feel more energetic and relaxed. I think I should learn from my grandfather in the future.

- 内容比较自然，已经接近 6.5
- "does a lot of things" 有点泛，可以更具体
- "learn something new" 稍微空泛
- 最后一句可以更口语化一点

Yes, my grandfather is someone who really enjoys getting up early. He usually wakes up at around five o'clock every morning.

After getting up, he likes to water the plants, do exercise, and prepare breakfast for the family. Sometimes he also reads newspapers or books while drinking a cup of tea, which helps him enjoy a peaceful start to the day.

I think getting up early gives him a healthy routine and makes him feel more energetic and relaxed.

Honestly, I'd like to develop the same habit in the future because I think it's good for both physical and mental health.

Q3

Why do people get up early?

A3

Band score: 6.0

I think it depends on different people's situations and hobbies. For example, some people like going to bed early and getting up early, because it is their lifestyle, while others get up early because they have to prepare for their studies or work.

- "different people's situations and hobbies" 表达有点宽泛
- "because it is their lifestyle" 太简单，可以更自然
- 回答略短，可以增加健康或效率方面的原因

I think people get up early for different reasons. Some people naturally prefer an early schedule and feel more productive in the morning.

Others have to wake up early because of work, school, or long commutes. In addition, some people believe that getting up early is healthier and gives them more time to exercise or prepare for the day.

Q4

What kinds of occasions need people to arrive early?

A4

Band score: 6.0

There are many occasions that require people to arrive early. For example, in important meetings, speakers often need to arrive early to prepare the microphone and presentation slides, while participants also need to prepare their notes and pens to ensure they can take key notes. Additionally, examinations are occasions where students must arrive early to organize their pens, papers, and other important items.

- "prepare the microphone" 不太自然，通常不会这么说
- "key notes" 搭配错误，更自然是 "take notes"
- 内容逻辑不错，但例子可以更生活化
- 句子稍长，可以更口语化一点

Polished

Many situations require people to arrive early, especially formal or important events.

For example, people often arrive early for meetings, interviews, conferences or presentations so they can prepare their materials and settle down before things begin. Students also need to arrive early for exams because they may need time to check their study materials, find their seats, and calm themselves down before the test starts.

Q5

Why do some people like to stay up late?

A5

Band score: 6.0

There are several reasons why people like to stay up late. Firstly, they have a lot of work during the daytime, so they can have more spare time by staying up late. Although this behavior may be harmful to their health. Secondly, many people have trouble sleeping, so they just stay up late doing something to kill the boring time.

- "Firstly/Secondly" 比较模板化
- "Although this behavior may be harmful to their health." 是残句
- "kill the boring time" 不自然，更自然的是 "pass the time"
- 可以增加玩游戏、刷视频等真实原因

Polished

There are many reasons why some people prefer staying up late.

One common reason is that they are very busy during the daytime, so they can own their free time at night to do anything they want without stress.

Some people also enjoy watching videos, playing games, or chatting with friends online late at night because they feel relaxed and comfortable at that time.

In addition, others may have difficulty sleeping, so they stay awake doing something to pass the time instead of going to bed early.

Q6

What kind of people like getting up early?

A6

Band score: 6.0

I think senior citizens like getting up early because they have a healthy lifestyle, going to bed early and rising early. They enjoy the fresh morning air, which allows them to exercise in a peaceful environment. And this habit can make them feel relaxed and happy.

- "senior citizens" 太正式，口语里 "older people" 更自然
- "And this habit" 不应该用 And 开头
- 内容有点单薄，可以增加职业或性格类型
- "healthy lifestyle" 和后文有些重复

Polished

I think older people are more likely to enjoy getting up early because many of them are used to having regular daily routines.

Morning provides a peaceful and quiet atmosphere. The old people often enjoy doing relaxing activities in the morning such as walking, exercising, or gardening. And people are more energetic to read books and newspapers to enjoy the start to the day.

Overall, senior citizens enjoy getting up early to live a healthy and positive life.
