Question

Describe a perfect job you would like to have in the future You should say: What it is How you knew it What you need to learn to get this job And explain why you think it is a perfect job for you

Answer

Band score: 6.0-6.5

I want to describe a perfect job I would like to have in the future. It is being a scientist. I think science is a charming and interesting profession, and it suits me well. When I was young, my father was an engineer, and he shared a lot of knowledge related to computer science with me. Exposed to many engineering products and concepts, I dreamed of becoming a scientist when I grew up. After I entered college, I was impressed by large language model products and robots. They are such interesting and useful tools that help people improve productivity and efficiency in both work and study. Therefore, I want to become a scientist majoring in computer science, and I aim to develop research on robotics. To get this job, I think I will try my best to study now so that I can acquire enough knowledge to understand the underlying mechanisms. What's more, I plan to gain more internship experience to learn more about the field and improve my skills. I believe this job is suitable for me because I'm hardworking and patient, which will allow me to dedicate sufficient time and energy to my work.

- "It is being a scientist" 不够自然，口语更适合说 I'd like to become a scientist
- "science is a charming and interesting profession" 搭配不自然，profession 不能直接指 science
- "large language model products" 太学术化，IELTS口语里直接说 AI tools 更自然
- "develop research on robotics" 搭配错误，应该是 do research in robotics
- 后半部分有些句子太长，比较像书面表达
- 结尾 "hardworking and patient" 比较普通，可以稍微具体一点

Polished

I'd like to become a computer scientist in the future because I've always been interested in technology and engineering.

When I was young, my father worked as an engineer, and he often shared interesting knowledge about computers and technology with me. Because of that, I gradually became interested in science and dreamed of working in this field one day.

After entering university, I became especially interested in AI tools and robotics. I was amazed by how these technologies can improve people's efficiency in both work and daily life.

In the future, I hope to do research in robotics and artificial intelligence. To achieve this goal, I need to study computer science seriously and gain more practical experience through internships and projects.

I think this is a perfect job for me because I'm curious, patient, and willing to spend a long time solving difficult problems. I would also enjoy creating technologies that can make people's lives easier.

Q1

What kind of job can be called a ‘dream job’?

Answer

Band score: 6.0-6.5

I think every job can be considered a dream job. A dream job doesn't depend on high salaries or a comfortable environment, but rather on our willingness and passion. For example, if we enjoy our job then it can be called a dream job. I have dreamed of becoming both a scientist and a barista because I want to gain more special and memorable experience from different fields. Overall, any job that we enjoy can be considered a dream job.

- 观点不错，但有些表达比较重复
- "our willingness and passion" 搭配不自然，直接说 interest and passion 更好
- "special and memorable experience" 建议改为复数 experiences
- scientist 和 barista 放一起稍微跳跃，可以解释一下原因

Polished

I think a dream job is a job that people are truly interested in and passionate about. It doesn’t necessarily have to offer a high salary or an easy working environment.

For example, some people dream of becoming doctors or engineers because they enjoy solving problems and helping others, while some may prefer creative or relaxing jobs.

Personally, I’ve thought about becoming both a scientist and a barista. Although these jobs are very different, I think both could give me valuable and memorable experiences in life.

So, in my opinion, any job can become a dream job if a person genuinely enjoys doing it.

Question

Describe a famous person you would like to meet You should say: Who he/she is How you knew him/her How/where you would like to meet him/her And explain why you would like to meet him/her

Answer

Band score: 6.0-6.5

A famous person I would like to meet is Wu Yanzu, a well -known actor in China. He is famous for his appearance and personality. I first saw him on a movie about a man who fights for his nation and citizens. He is very handsome and charming, which is why he has become my favorite celebrity. Moreover, Mr. Wu is also helpful and kind. He is willing to engage in charity work and has become a role model on social media. Many people say that he not only has a handsome appearance but also a kind heart. I want to meet him in person and have a conversation with him, because I believe I can learn from him and become a better person as well. Additionally, I hope to contribute to our society and country like he does.

- "well -known" 中间不需要空格，应为 well-known
- "on a movie" 搭配错误，应为 in a movie
- "famous for his appearance and personality" 有点奇怪，更自然是 good looks and positive personality
- 内容整体比较像“夸奖清单”，缺少具体细节
- “contribute to our society and country” 有点正式书面化
- 可以增加 “where/how to meet him” 的细节，让答案更完整

Polished

A famous person I’d really like to meet is Daniel Wu, who is a very popular actor in China.

I first knew him from a historical action movie that I watched a few years ago. In that film, he played a brave character who protected his country and the people around him. I was deeply impressed by both his acting skills and his personality.

Besides being handsome, he also seems to be friendly and heartwarming. I’ve seen some interviews and social media videos where he talked about charity work and personal growth, so many people admire him not only for his appearance but also for his character.

If possible, I’d like to meet him at a fan event or movie promotion activity and have a short conversation with him. I think it would be inspiring to hear about his experiences and attitude toward life.

I’d like to meet him because he motivates me to become a more confident and responsible person. I also admire the positive influence he has on society, and I hope I can make a meaningful contribution to others in the future as well.

Q1

What are the advantages and disadvantages of being a famous child?

A1

On the one hand, famous children are always in the spotlight. They may be too young to understand this attention, which could lead to a loss of personality and privacy. Moreover, excessive exposure can harm a child's mental health. On the other hand, fans might encourage a child to grow up better. Overall, I believe the disadvantages of being a famous child outweigh the advantages.

Q2

What can today’s children do to become famous?

A2

There are too many people who became famous when they were very young. Some people are very good at singing or acting, so they can become singers or actors. Additionally, some people are good at sports such as swimming, and running. So becoming an athlete can also make someone famous. What's more, children can share their daily lives on the internet and become influencers on social media.

Question

Describe an occasion when you were not allowed to use your mobile phone You should say: When it was Where it was Why you were not allowed to use your mobile phone And how you felt about it

Answer

There are many occasions when we are not allowed to use our mobile phones, but I'd like to describe one special occasion: during meetings. These meetings often take place in our office meeting room where my teammates and I gather to discuss our work. There are several reasons why we are not allowed to use our mobile phones. Firstly, we need to focus on the context of the meeting, so using our mobile phones may distract us. What's more, it is important for us to show our respect for others who are talking., So we should listen carefully instead of checking our phones. Additionally, taking notes by hand is also necessary. Overall, I strongly believe that it is important and necessary for us to focus during these special occasions, so we shouldn't use our mobile phones.

P3

Q1

How do young and old people use mobile phones differently?

On the one hand, young people often chat and stream videos on social media platforms, while older people prefer listening to the radio or reading books. For example, my grandpa often reads e-books on his mobile phone every morning, whereas I spend a lot of time chatting with my friends on social apps. Older people may still communicate face-to-face because they enjoy conversation, but young people might think chatting online is more efficient.

Q1

What positive and negative impact do mobile phones have on friendship?

In the past, friends often communicated face to face. However, with the development of technology, online communication has become more efficient and allows us to connect at any time and in any place. Nevertheless, I feel that the sense of closeness in relationships is decreasing because we are not interacting with genuine affection.

Q1

Is it a waste of time to take pictures with mobile phones?

No, I don't think so. I believe that taking pictures with mobile phones is a memorable and special experience. It helps us preserve precious memories, resulting in beautiful photos. Moreover, many people enjoy capturing scenic views and valuable moments, which they can do easily with their mobile phones. For example, I like taking pictures with my friends because those moments are valuable overall. In my opinion, using mobile phones to take pictures is not a waste of time.

Q1

Do you think it is necessary to have laws on the use of mobile phones?

Yes, I do. There are some people who use mobile phones to break the law. For example, I often receive calls and messages from strangers that contain my personal information, which threatens me. So I think it is necessary to limit them from doing illegal things. What's more, we need to build an environment where everyone uses their mobile phones legally and enjoys their lives with them. Overall, I think it's necessary to have laws on the use of mobile phones.

Q1

What are examples of good and poor phone manners?

On the One hand, some people stream videos loudly or speak aloud on calls, which I think are examples of poor phone manners because they disturb others in public areas. On the other hand, we should turn off our phones in places like cinemas and libraries to provide a peaceful environment for everyone else.

Q1

How does the internet benefit people?

People benefit a lot from the internet. We can gain the latest information and news easily, which allows us to keep up with global and social trends. Furthermore, we can chat online with our friends, though it sometimes replaces face-to-face conversations while saving time and energy. Additionally, the internet offers more ways to spend our free time. Overall, I think people. Benefit greatly from the internet, through chatting, entertainment, and accessing information.

Question

Describe a time when you gave advice to others You should say: When it was To whom you gave the advice What the advice was And explain why you gave the advice

Answer

I want to describe how I advised my childhood friend, Xiang, on summer vacation last year. With the development of computer science, artificial intelligence is becoming increasingly popular nowadays. So my friend Xiang wanted to study AI by himself and asked me for advice on how to learn more skills related to AI. Because I major in computer science and technology, I I'm quite knowledgeable about the subject. I gave him three suggestions. Firstly, he can gain knowledge from the internet due to the abundance of open -source materials, which makes it very convenient to access useful information. Secondly, practicing more is a useful and important way to improve his skills. Thirdly, it is also necessary to work on practical projects so that he can acquire hands-on experience. I gave him these three pieces of advice because I have experienced the same process myself and know that many resources are available online. In the end, I hope he will try his best to improve with my advice.

P3

Q1

Should people prepare before giving advice?

A1

Yes, I think people should prepare and give useful and practical advice. For example, if my friends ask me for help, I would search for materials and information, then summarize them and offer advice to my friends. Preparation can make our advice more detailed. What's more, we can gather more information and provide better advice.

Q2

Is it good to ask advice from strangers online?

Yes, it is. With the development of computer science, many people post useful information on social media platforms, so Useful advice is available online. For example., I often search for materials related to my homework online, and gain a lotvfrom strangers. So, I think it is convenient and helpful to ask for advice from strangers online.

Q3

What are the personalities of people whose job is to give advice to others?

I think they are kind and helpful. They are willing to help others and provide useful advice. For example, I often ask my teachers for help, and they patiently teach me how to improve myself

Q4

What are the problems if you ask too many people for advice?

I think people may get impatient when giving too much advice. Providing advice to others takes a lot of time and energy, so people may worry about the cost and become impatient. For example, I'm not the kind of person who gives suggestions patiently. So I tend to fell worried and impatient, because I am unwilling to give too much advice at a time.

Q5

Why do some people think it is better to ask for advice from friends than from parents?

I think there are several reasons why people are more willing to ask for help from their friends. First, there is a generation gap between parents and children., Which makes it difficult to communicate effectively and provide useful suggestions. What's more, friends are often. The same age and know each other well, so they can have deep conversations and offer practical advice. For example, some of my friends are helpful and kind, and I often get valuable information from them.

When would old people ask young people for advice?

Although old people are knowledgeable and informative, Sometimes they may ask young people for help because senior citizens are not good with technical information such as mobile phones and internet. For example, my grandfather often asked me how to use his mobile phone to chat with his friends online.

Question

Describe a piece of technology (not a phone) that you would like to own You should say: What it is How much it costs How you knew it And explain why you would like to own it

Answer

I want to describe a piece of technology that I really want to own. It is a robot. With the development of science and technology, robots are becoming more and more popular. As we all know, there are many videos and posts related to AI on social media platforms. Robotics plays an important role in showcasing advanced technology. I was impressed by the novelty of modern science and technology. A robot may cost about one million yuan, although it is expensive for me now, I would like to own one in the future. I want to own one so that I can experience this advanced technology and gain new skills. I think it will help me improve myself and do more interesting things.

P3

What are the differences between the technology of the past and that of today? What technology do young people like to use? What are the differences between online and face-to-face communication? Do you think technology has changed the way people communicate? What negative effects does technology have on people's relationships? What are the differences between making friends in real life and online?

Question

Describe a person who makes plans a lot and is good at planning You should say: Who he/she is How you knew him/her What plans he/she makes And explain how you feel about this person

Answer

I want to describe a person who is very good at planning, my childhood friend Xiang. He Is a self-disciplined boy, who is excellent at making plans for his daily life. We lived in the same block when we were young, and I first met him in our community playground. We have been friends for nine years. At that time, I was exercising for my PE test, when I saw him running. I noticed he was very good at running and had a strong body. He told me that he ran every day to keep fit. What's more, I asked him about his daily routine, and he gave me more details. He gets up at six o'clock every day and starts running. By the way, he is also very good at playing basketball and sometimes does other activities in the morning. After exercising, he takes a shower, has breakfast, and then begins to study. I think he is very self-disciplined. And maintains a healthy lifestyle. That's why I became friends with him and learned from him.

Question

Describe a child who loves drawing/painting You should say: Who he/she is How/when you knew him/her How often he/she draws/paints And explain why you think he/she loves drawing/painting

Answer

Band score: 6.0-6.5

I want to describe a child who loves painting. My cousin, Xiang, is a young boy who loves painting very much. He is only seven years old, but he is very good at painting, especially natural scenery. He has been drawing for several years and practices almost every week. He used to tell me that he wants to be a famous artist in the future, so he keeps practicing in his free time. Every weekend, he often goes outside in the morning to find some beautiful scenery so that he can capture it and draw it on paper. Ultimately, he can show others beautiful paintings thanks to his special talent. He is keen on painting and keeps practicing, so I think he is a boy who loves painting very much.

- "natural scenery" → 可以，但 "landscape painting" 更自然、更地道
- "find some beautiful scenery so that he can capture it and draw it on paper" 句子过长，表达不够口语化
- "Ultimately, he can show others beautiful paintings thanks to his special talent" 逻辑有点奇怪，重点应该是兴趣和努力，而不是天赋
- 结尾 "he is a boy who loves painting very much" 与开头重复，显得不够高级
- 可以增加一个具体原因解释 为什么他喜欢画画，这样更符合题目最后一个问题（explain why）

Polished

I'd like to talk about my cousin Xiang, a seven-year-old boy who is really passionate about painting.

Although he is quite young, he is already very skilled at painting landscapes and natural scenery. I have known about his hobby since he was around four years old, and he has been practicing it regularly ever since.

In his free time, especially on weekends, he often goes outdoors with his sketchbook. He enjoys observing beautiful views such as parks, rivers, and gardens, and then tries to recreate them in his drawings.

One thing I really admire is that he is very dedicated. He spends a lot of time improving his techniques because he dreams of becoming an artist in the future.

I think he loves painting because it allows him to express his creativity and record the beauty of the world around him. Whenever he finishes a drawing, he looks extremely proud and excited. That's why I believe painting is not just a hobby for him, but something he genuinely enjoys and wants to pursue in the future.
